

SAL Advanced Leadership WORKSHOP SERIES

REGISTER BY JANUARY 10, 2017

SAL was named after Sally Lentz-Crouse who was a leader in the multifamily housing industry and a pioneer for all women in the real estate industry. To keep Sally's legacy alive, in 2008 the Indiana Apartment Association began an annual Leadership Retreat. After taking a two-year hiatus to reevaluate, revitalize, and rejuvenate the SAL Advanced Leadership Series, the SAL Task Force is excited to present the 2017 SAL Advanced Leadership Series, featuring four workshops on the 24th of every month beginning in January culminating with a leadership retreat May 24-26, 2017.

- Learn the type of trust that is most effective in organizations in order to achieve the vision and deliver results.

Equestrian Leadership Application: Equestrian leadership training offers attendees the opportunity to practice leadership skills in a safe setting. The ability of leaders to be self-aware, communicate effectively, coach successfully, and motivate others is crucial in today's marketplace. While interacting with horses, attendees will be able to demonstrate their authentic leadership style and recognize their behaviors that limit their professional advancement. Horses act as a mirror, reflecting a person's behavior, providing direct feedback to attendee's leadership style. By observing the horse's ability to follow, aspiring leaders learn how to manage their emotions, consistently communicate, and lead with authenticity. This hands-on application teaches skills quickly in ways that are difficult to achieve in the classroom and in the board room.

This program is designed for executives, department heads, and aspiring leaders with several years of experience leading a team.
